Provided that this subsection has no effect as regards a post-mortem examination already made.

- (b) the Governor is satisfied that such appointment would be consistent with the efficiency of the public service, but a person so appointed shall (unless the Governor, on the advice of the Judicial Service Commission, orders otherwise) be deemed to have resigned as a Coroner if he or she is appointed to a public office different from that which he or she held at the time of his or her appointment.

(4) The Chief Coroner may appoint any Coroner appointed under subsection (2) as Deputy Chief Coroner who may perform any functions of the Chief Coroner (excepting such functions conferred by section 39)—

- (b) to give a direction excluding specified persons from an inquest during the giving of evidence by a witness under the age of 16, if the Coroner is of the opinion that doing so would be likely to improve the quality of the witness's evidence, and in this subsection “specified persons” means persons of a description specified in the direction or all persons except those of a description specified in the direction.

(4) Subsections (2) and (3) shall not be construed as limiting the power in subsection (1).

(6) Where any provisions or rules are applied by virtue of subsection (5), they may be applied—

- (c) as amended from time to time.

(7) Practice directions may be given by the Chief Coroner on any matter that could otherwise be included in Coroners’ rules.

(8) Coroners’ rules may, instead of providing for a matter, refer to provision made or to be made by practice directions under subsection (7).

(9) In this section “rules of court” include any provision governing the practice and procedure of a court that is made by or under an enactment.

Meaning of “interested person”

22. (1) “Interested person”, in relation to an investigation into a person's death, means—

Applying for declaration of presumed death

- 23. (1) This section applies where a person who is missing—
- (a) is thought to have died; or
 - (b) has not been known to be alive for a period of at least seven years.
- (2) Any person may apply to the Supreme Court for a declaration that the missing person is presumed to be dead.
- (3) The Supreme Court has jurisdiction to hear and determine an application under this section only if—
- (a) the missing person was domiciled in St Helena on the day on which he or she was last known to be alive;
 - (b) the missing person had been habitually resident in St Helena throughout the period of one year ending with that day; or
 - (c) subsection (4) is satisfied.
- (4) This subsection is satisfied if the application is made by—
- (a) a person whom the court considers to have a sufficient interest in the determination of the application; and
 - (b) the court considers such interest to have sufficient connection with St Helena.

Making declaration

- 24. (1) On an application under section 23, the Supreme Court must make the declaration if satisfied that the missing person—
- (a) has died; or
 - (b) has not been known to be alive for a period of at least seven years.
- (2) The Supreme Court must include in the declaration a finding as to the date and time of the missing person's death.
- (3) Where the Supreme Court—
- (a) is satisfied that the missing person has died; but
 - (b) is uncertain at which moment during a period the missing person died,
- the finding must be that the missing person is presumed to have died at the end of that period.
- (4) Where the Supreme Court—
- (a) is satisfied that the missing person has not been known to be alive for a period of at least seven years; but
 - (b) is not satisfied that the missing person has died,
- the finding must be that the missing person is presumed to have died at the end of the period of seven years beginning with the day after the day on which he or she was last known to be alive.

Effect of declaration

- 25. (1) A declaration under this Ordinance is conclusive of—
- (a) the missing person's presumed death; and
 - (b) the date and time of the death.
- (2) A declaration under this Ordinance is effective against all persons and for all purposes, including for the purposes of—
- (a) the acquisition of an interest in any property; and
 - (b) the ending of a marriage or civil partnership to which the missing person is a party.

- (3) Subsections (1) and (2) apply to a declaration only if—
 - (a) it has not been appealed against and the period for bringing an appeal has ended; or
 - (b) it has been appealed against and the appeal (and any further appeal) has been unsuccessful.
- (4) For the purposes of subsection (3), an appeal has been unsuccessful if—
 - (a) it has been dismissed or withdrawn; and
 - (b) any period for bringing a further appeal has ended.

Other powers of court making declaration

- 26. (1) When making a declaration under this Ordinance, the Supreme Court may—
 - (a) determine any question which relates to an interest in property and arises as a result of the declaration; and
 - (b) determine the domicile of the missing person at the time of his or her presumed death.
- (2) When making a declaration under this Ordinance, the Supreme Court may make such order as is considered reasonable in relation to any interest in property acquired as a result of the declaration.
- (3) An order under subsection (2) may direct that the value of any interest in property acquired as a result of the declaration is not to be recoverable by virtue of an order made under section 29(2).
- (4) It may, in particular, direct that the value of the interest—
 - (a) is not to be recoverable in any circumstances; or
 - (b) is not to be recoverable where conditions specified in the order are met.

Varying and revoking declaration

- 27. (1) On an application by any person, a declaration under this Ordinance may be varied or revoked by an order of the Supreme Court (a “variation order”).
- (2) The Supreme Court must refuse to hear an application for a variation order if it is considered that the applicant does not have a sufficient interest in the determination of the application.

Effect of variation order

- 28. (1) Subject to section 29, a variation order does not affect an interest in property acquired as a result of a declaration under this Ordinance.
- (2) A variation order does not revive a marriage or civil partnership that was brought to an end by virtue of a declaration under this Ordinance.
- (3) Except as otherwise required by subsection (1) or (2)—
 - (a) where a variation order varies a declaration, section 25(1) and (2) have effect in relation to the declaration as varied by the order; and
 - (b) where a variation order revokes a declaration, those subsections cease to have effect in relation to the declaration.
- (4) Subsection (3) applies only if—
 - (a) the variation order has not been appealed against and the period for bringing an appeal has ended; or
 - (b) the variation order has been appealed against and the appeal (and any further appeal) has been unsuccessful.
- (5) For the purposes of subsection (4), an appeal has been unsuccessful if—

- (a) it has been dismissed or withdrawn; and
- (b) any period for bringing a further appeal has ended.

Other functions of Supreme Court making variation order

- 29. (1) When making a variation order, the Supreme Court may—
- (a) determine any question which relates to an interest in property and arises as a result of the variation order; and
 - (b) determine the domicile of the missing person at the time of his or her presumed death.
- (2) When making a variation order, the Supreme Court must make such further order (if any) as is considered reasonable in relation to any interest in property acquired as a result of the declaration varied or revoked by the order (“the original declaration”) (but see subsections (3), (5) and (6)).
- (3) The Supreme Court must not make an order under subsection (2) if the application for the variation order was made after the end of the period of five years beginning with the day on which the original declaration was made, unless the Supreme Court considers that there are exceptional circumstances which make it appropriate to do so.
- (4) In considering what order to make under subsection (2), the Supreme Court must, as far as practicable, have regard to the principles in section 30.
- (5) An order under subsection (2) does not affect income that accrued in the period—
- (a) beginning with the day on which the original declaration was made; and
 - (b) ending with the day on which the variation order was made.
- (6) An order under subsection (2) does not affect or provide grounds to challenge—
- (a) a related good faith transaction; or
 - (b) an interest in property acquired under such a transaction.
- (7) A “related good faith transaction” is a transaction under which a person acquires an interest in the property that is the subject of the order (or any part of it) in good faith and for value from—
- (a) a person who acquired an interest in the property (or any part of it) as a result of the original declaration; or
 - (b) a person who acquired an interest in the property (or any part of it) from a person described in paragraph (a), whether directly or indirectly.
- (8) Where a person has entitlement under a trust by virtue of an order under subsection (2), the trustee is liable to that person for any loss suffered by that person on account of any breach of trust by the trustee in the administration or distribution of all or part of the property that is the subject of the order.
- (9) Subsection (8) does not apply to the extent that the trustee’s liability is restricted under any enactment or by any provision in a deed regulating the administration of the trust.
- (10) In subsection (9) “enactment” includes an enactment contained in an instrument made under an Act or Ordinance.

Principles

- 30. (1) These are the principles referred to in section 29(4).
- (2) The first principle is relevant where property (“the relevant property”) is being or has been administered under a trust.
- (3) The first principle is that—

- (a) a person who, but for section 28(1), would have an interest in the relevant property by virtue of a variation order; and
- (b) a person who, but for section 28(1), would have acquired an interest in the relevant property from a person described in paragraph (a), should be entitled to have made over to him or her by the trustee in full satisfaction of that interest the things listed in subsection (4).

(4) For purposes of subsection (3), the things are—

- (a) the interest in the relevant property or an equivalent interest in property representing the relevant property, to the extent that such property is still in the hands of the trustee when the variation order is made; and
- (b) the value of the interest in the relevant property, to the extent that such property has been distributed.

(5) The second principle is relevant where an insurer has paid a capital sum as a result of a declaration varied or revoked by a variation order.

(6) The second principle is that the capital sum, or any part of the capital sum, should be repaid to the insurer if the facts in respect of which the variation order was made justify such repayment.

(7) The references in subsections (5) and (6) to a capital sum do not include a capital sum distributed by way of an annuity or other periodical payment.

Giving notice of application

31. (1) A person who makes an application under this Ordinance for a declaration or a variation order must send to the persons specified by the Supreme Court—

- (a) notice of the application; and

(3) Where the Attorney General incurs costs in connection with an application under this Ordinance for a declaration or a variation order, the Supreme Court may make such order as is considered appropriate as to the payment of the costs by parties to the proceedings.

(4) Subsection (3) applies whether the costs are incurred by virtue of a direction under subsection (1), an intervention under section 33(2) or otherwise.

Right to intervene

33. (1) The missing person's spouse, life partner, parent, child or sibling may intervene in proceedings on an application under this Ordinance for a declaration or a variation order.

(2) The Attorney General may intervene in such proceedings, whether or not the Supreme Court directs papers relating to the application be sent to the Attorney General.

(3) Any other person may intervene in such proceedings only with the permission of the Supreme Court.

(4) References in this section to intervening in proceedings include—

(a) arguing before the Supreme Court any question in relation to the application which the Supreme Court considers it necessary to have fully argued;

(b) in proceedings on an application for a declaration under this Ordinance, seeking a determination or order under section 26; and

(1) In proceedings on an application under this Ordinance for a declaration or a variation order, the Supreme Court may by order at any stage require a person who is not a party to the proceedings to provide it with specified information that it considers relevant to the question of whether the missing person is alive or dead.

(2) The Supreme Court may do so only where it is considered necessary for the purpose of disposing of the proceedings.

(3) The Supreme Court may do so on the application of a party to the proceedings or without such an application being made.

(4) The order may not require the provision of information—

(a) which is permitted or required by any rule of law to be withheld on grounds of public interest immunity;

(b) which any person would be entitled to refuse to provide on grounds of legal professional privilege; or

(c) whose provision might incriminate the person providing it, or that person's spouse of an offence.

(5) Before making an order under this section, the Supreme Court must send notice of such intention to make the order to any person who, in the Supreme Court's opinion, is likely to be affected by the order.

(6) The Supreme Court may discharge or vary an order made under this section on an application made by any person who, in the opinion of the Supreme Court, is affected by it.

(7) In this section "specified" means specified in an order under this section.

Insurance against claims: trustees

35. (1) If the Supreme Court so directs, the trustee of a trust affected by a declaration under this Ordinance must as soon as reasonably practicable take out an insurance policy in respect of any claim which may arise by virtue of an order under section 29(2).

(2) For the purposes of this section, a trust is affected by a declaration under this Ordinance if—

(a) it arises as a result of the declaration; or

(b) property held under the trust is affected by the declaration.

(3) A premium payable by the trustee in accordance with a direction under this section may be paid out of money or other property held under the trust.

(2) The policy must be taken out—

(a) in the person's own name; and

(b) for the benefit of the insurer.

(3) Subsection (1) does not apply—

(a) where the sum is paid in respect of an annuity or other periodical payment; and

(4) In this section "insurer" means any person who provides for the payment of a benefit on a person's death.

(4) Schedule 5 (further provision about Register of Presumed Deaths) has effect.

38. (1) No declaration which may be applied for under section 23 may be made otherwise than under this Ordinance.

(2) Where a court or tribunal makes a declaration that a missing person is presumed to be dead (other than on an application under this Ordinance), section 24(2) to (4) applies to the court or tribunal as they apply to the Supreme Court when it makes a declaration under this Ordinance.

(3) Apart from subsections (1) and (2), nothing in the preceding provisions of this Ordinance affects any power or duty that a court or tribunal has other than under this Ordinance to determine a question relating to the death of a missing person.
