

Guidance note

Seed potato – Konsul variety

Origin	Mediterranean, via South Africa.
Description of tubers	Large, medium number of oval to round, tubers with a very smooth skin and shallow eyes, the skin and flesh are cream
Cropping details	Plants are tall, stems erect, good foliage cover and white flowers. Growing period medium, 100 days. Tuber dormancy period medium to long, 110 days from burn off.
Yield	High to very high yield potential.
Resistance characteristics	Scab	Late blight	Early blight
	Medium resistance	Resistance	Medium resistance
Cooking quality	Texture is firm cooking type, ideal for boil, roast and salads.
Keeping quality	Good
Any other notes	Konsul is suitable for cultivation at several soil types. Because of the big tubers, a good ridge is needed. Konsul is susceptible to bruising, ensuring skin is set well before harvest will reduce problems.		