DIVISION C: SHARE CAPITAL

Shares

Nature of shares

30. (1) Shares in a company are personal estate and are not of the nature of real estate; and a share is transferable in the manner provided by this Ordinance.

(2) Shares in a company are to be without nominal or par value.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), each share in a company must be distinguished by an appropriate designation.

(4) If at any time all the issued shares in a company, or all the issued shares in a company of a particular class, rank equally for all purposes, none of those shares need thereafter have a distinguishing designation so long as they rank equally for all purposes with all shares for the time being issued, or, as the case may be, all the shares for the time being issued of the particular class.

One class of shares

31. When a company has only one class of shares, the right of the holders are equal in all respects, and include—

(a) the right to vote at any meeting of shareholders;

- (b) the right to receive any dividend declared by the company; and
- (c) the right to receive the remaining property of the company on dissolution.

Shares classes

32. The articles of a company may provide for more than one class of shares; and, if they so provide—

- (a) the rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the shares of each class must be set out in the articles; and
- (b) the rights set out in section 31 must be attached to at least one class of shares, but all of those rights need not be attached to the same class of shares.

Share issue

33. (1) Subject to the articles, the by-laws, any unanimous shareholder agreement, and section 37, shares may be issued at such times, and to such persons, and for such consideration, as the directors decide.

- (2) No company may issue bearer shares or bearer share certificates.

Consideration

34. (1) A share must not be issued until it is fully paid—

- (a) in money, or
- (b) in property or past service that is the fair equivalent of the money that the company would have received if the share had been issued for money.

(2) In determining whether property or past service is the fair equivalent of a money consideration, the directors may take into account reasonable charges and expenses of organisation and reorganisation, and payments for property and past services reasonably expected to benefit the company.

(3) For the purposes of this section, “property” does not include a promissory note or a promise to pay.

Stated capital accounts

35. (1) A company must maintain a separate stated capital account expressed in any of the established currencies for each class and series of shares that it issues.

(2) A company must add to the appropriate stated capital account the full amount of the consideration that it receives for any shares that it issues.

(3) A company must not reduce its stated capital or any stated capital account except in the manner provided by this Ordinance.

(4) A company must not, in respect of a share that it issues, add to a stated capital account an amount greater than the amount of the consideration that it receives for the share.

(5) When a company proposes to add an amount to a stated capital account that it maintains in respect of a class or series of shares, that addition to the stated capital account must be approved by special resolution if—

- (a) the amount to be added was not received by the company as consideration for the issue of shares, and
- (b) the company has issued any outstanding shares of more than one class or series.

(6) Notwithstanding section 34 and subsection (2) of this section—

- (a) when, in exchange for property, a company issues shares—
 - (i) to a corporate body that was an affiliate of the company immediately before the exchange; or
 - (ii) to a person who controlled the company immediately before the exchange, the company, subject to subsection (4), may add to the stated capital accounts that are maintained for the shares of the classes or series issued the amount agreed, by the company and the corporate body or person, to be the consideration for the shares so exchanged;
- (b) when a company issues shares in exchange for shares of a corporate body that was an affiliate of the company immediately before the exchange, the company may, subject to subsection (4), add to the stated capital accounts that are maintained for the shares of the classes or series issued an amount that is not less than the amount set out, in respect of the acquired shares of the corporate body, in the stated capital or equivalent accounts of the corporate body immediately before the exchange;
- (c) when a company issues shares in exchange for shares of a corporate body that becomes, because of the exchange, an affiliate of the company, the company may, subject to subsection (4), add to the stated capital accounts that are maintained for the classes or series issued an amount that is not less than the amount set out, in respect of the acquired shares of the corporate body, in the stated capital or equivalent accounts of the corporate body immediately before the exchange.

Series shares

36. (1) The articles of a company may authorise the issue of any class of shares in one or more series, and may authorise the directors to fix the number of shares in and to decide the designation, rights, privileges, restrictions and conditions attaching to the shares of each series, subject to the limitations set out in the articles.

(2) If any cumulative dividends or amounts payable on return of capital in respect of a series of shares are not paid in full, the shares of all series of the same class participate rateably in respect of accumulated dividends and return of capital.

(3) No rights, privileges, restrictions or conditions attached to a series of shares authorised under this section may confer upon the series a priority in respect of dividends or return of capital over any other series of shares of the same class that are then outstanding.

(4) Before the issue of shares of a series authorised under this section, the directors must send to the Registrar articles of amendment in the approved form to designate a series of shares.

(5) Upon receipt from a company of articles of amendment designating a series of shares, the Registrar must issue to the company a certificate of amendment.

(6) The articles of a company are amended accordingly on the date shown in the certificate of amendment issued under subsection (5).

(1) If the articles so provide, no shares of a class of shares may be issued unless the shares have first been offered to the shareholders of the company holding shares of that class; and those shareholders have a pre-emptive right to acquire the offered shares in proportion to their holdings of the shares of that class, at the same price and on the same terms as those shares are to be offered to others.

(2) Notwithstanding that the articles of a company provide the pre-emptive right referred to in subsection (1), the shareholders of the company have no pre-emptive right in respect of shares to be issued by the company—

(2) An alternate director has all the rights and powers of the director for whom the alternate is elected or appointed, except that an alternate director is not entitled to attend and vote at any meeting of the directors otherwise than in the absence of that other director.

Cumulative voting

70. If the articles of a company provide for cumulative voting, the following rules apply—

- (a) the articles must require a fixed number, and not a minimum and maximum number of directors;
- (b) each shareholder who is entitled to vote at an election of directors has the right to cast a number of votes equal to the number of votes attached to the shares held by that shareholder, multiplied by the number of directors to be elected, and the shareholder may cast all the votes in favour of one candidate, or distribute them among the candidates in any manner;
- (c) a separate vote of shareholders must be taken with respect to each candidate nominated for director unless a resolution is passed unanimously permitting 2 or more persons to be elected by a single resolution;
- (d) if a shareholder votes for more than one candidate without specifying the distribution of votes among the candidates, the votes are distributed equally among the candidates for whom the shareholder votes;
- (e) if the number of candidates nominated for director exceeds the number of positions to be filled, the candidates who receive the least number of votes must be eliminated until the number of candidates remaining equals the number of positions to be filled;
- (f) every director ceases to hold office at the close of the first annual meeting of shareholders following the election;
- (g) a person must not be removed from office as a director if the votes cast against the person's removal would be sufficient to elect the person, and those votes could be voted cumulatively at the election at which the same total number of votes were cast, and the number of directors required by the articles were then being elected; and
- (h) the number of directors required by the articles must not be decreased if the votes cast against the motion to decrease would be sufficient to elect a director and those votes could be voted cumulatively at an election at which the same total number of votes were cast and the number of directors required by the articles were then being elected.

Termination of office

71. (1) A director of a company ceases to hold office when the director—

may submit to the company a written statement giving the reasons for the resignation or the reasons why the director opposes any proposed action or resolution.

(3) The company must forthwith send a copy of the statement referred to in subsection (2) to the Registrar and to every shareholder entitled to receive notice of any meeting referred to in subsection (1).

Filling vacancy

74. (1) Subject to subsections (3) and (4), a quorum of directors of a company may fill a vacancy among the directors of the company, except a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number or minimum number of directors, or from a failure to elect the number or minimum number of directors required by the articles of the company.

(2) If there is no quorum of directors, or if there has been a failure to elect the number or minimum number of directors required by the articles, the directors then in office must forthwith call a special meeting of shareholders to fill the vacancy; and, if they fail to call a meeting, or if there are no directors then in office, the meeting may be called by any shareholder.

(3) If the holders of any class or series of shares of a company have an exclusive right to elect one or more directors and a vacancy occurs among those directors—

- (a) then, subject to subsection (4), the remaining directors elected by that class or series may fill the vacancy, except a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number or minimum number of directors for that class or series, or from a failure to elect the number or minimum number of directors for that class or series; or
- (b) if there are no such remaining directors, any holder of shares of that class or series may call a meeting of the holders thereof for the purpose of filling the vacancy.

116. (1) Unless the by-laws otherwise provide, a quorum of shareholders is present at a meeting of shareholders if the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the meeting are present in person or represented by proxy.

(2) If a quorum is present at the opening of a meeting of shareholders, the shareholders present may, unless the by-laws otherwise provide, proceed with the business of the meeting, even if a quorum is not present throughout the meeting.

(3) If a quorum is not present within 30 minutes of the time appointed for a meeting of shareholders, the meeting must stand adjourned to the same day 2 weeks later, at the same time and place; and, if at the adjourned meeting, a quorum is not present within 20 minutes of the appointed time, the shareholders present constitute a quorum.

(4) If a company has only one shareholder, or has only one shareholder of any class or series of shares, that shareholder present in person or by proxy constitutes a meeting.

Voting the shares

Right to vote share

Representation of other body

(2) An individual who is authorised as described in subsection (1) may exercise, on behalf of the corporate body or association that he or she represents, all the powers it could exercise if it were an individual shareholder.

Joint shareholders

119. Unless the by-laws otherwise provide, if 2 or more persons hold shares jointly, one of those holders present at a meeting of shareholders may, in the absence of the other, vote the shares; but if 2 or more of those persons who are present, in person or by proxy, vote, they must vote as one on the share jointly held by them.

Voting method at meeting

120. (1) Unless the by-laws otherwise provide, voting at a meeting of shareholders must be by a show of hands, except when a ballot is demanded by a shareholder or proxy holder entitled to vote at the meeting.

(2) A shareholder or proxy holder may demand a ballot either before or after any vote by show of hands.

Resolution in writing

121. (1) Unless a written statement is submitted by a director under section 73 or by an auditor under section 144—

- (a) a resolution in writing signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote on that resolution at a meeting of shareholders is as valid as if it had been passed at a meeting of the shareholders; and
- (b) a resolution in writing dealing with all matters required by this Ordinance to be dealt with at a meeting of shareholders, and signed by all the shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting, satisfies all the requirements of this Ordinance relating to a meeting of shareholders.

(2) A copy of every resolution referred to in subsection (1) must be kept with the minutes of the meetings of shareholders, but failure so to keep such a copy does not render void any action taken by the company.

Compulsory meeting

Requisitioned shareholders meetings

122. (1) The holders of not less than 5% of the issued shares of a company that carry the right to vote at a meeting sought to be held by them may requisition the directors to call a meeting of shareholders for the purposes stated in the requisition.

(2) The requisition referred to in subsection (1), which may consist of several documents of similar form, each signed by one or more shareholders of the company, must –

- (a) state the business to be transacted at the meeting; and
- (b) be sent to each director and to the registered office of the company.

(3) Upon receiving a requisition referred to in subsection (1), the directors must call a meeting of shareholders to transact the business stated in the requisition, unless—

- (a) a record date has been fixed under 108(2) and notice of it has been given under section 110; or
- (b) the directors have called a meeting of shareholders and have given notice of it under section 108.

(2) A shareholder who is a party to any unanimous shareholder agreement has all the rights, powers and duties, and incurs all the liabilities of a director of the company to which the agreement relates, to the extent that the agreement restricts a resolution in writing dealing with the discretion or powers of the directors to manage the business and affairs of the company; and the directors are thereby relieved of their duties and liabilities to the same extent.

(3) If a person who is the beneficial owner of all the issued shares of a company makes a written declaration that restricts in whole or in part the powers of the directors to manage the business and affairs of the company, the declaration constitutes a unanimous shareholder agreement.

(4) If any unanimous shareholder agreement is executed or terminated, written notice of that fact, together with the date of the execution or termination, must be filed with the Registrar within 15 days after the execution or termination.

Shareholder approvals

Extraordinary transactions

126. (1) A sale, lease or exchange of all, or substantially all the property of a company other than in the ordinary course of business of the company requires the approval of the shareholders in accordance with this section.

(2) A notice of a meeting of shareholders complying with section 108 must be sent in accordance with that section to each shareholder and must—

- (a) include or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the agreement of sale, lease or exchange; and
- (b) state that a dissenting shareholder is entitled to be paid the fair value of his shares, but failure to make the statement referred to in paragraph (b) does not invalidate a sale, lease or exchange referred to in subsection (1).

(3) At the meeting referred to in subsection (2) the shareholders may authorise the sale, lease or exchange of the property, and may fix or authorise the directors to fix any of the terms and conditions of the sale, lease or exchange.

(4) Each share of the company carries the right to vote in respect of a sale, lease or exchange referred to in subsection (1), whether or not it otherwise carries the right to vote.

(5) The shareholders of a class or series of shares of the company are entitled to vote separately as a class or series in respect of a sale, lease or exchange in a manner different from the shares of another class or series.

(6) A sale, lease or exchange referred to in subsection (1) is adopted when the shareholders of each class or series of shares who are entitled to vote on them have, by special resolution, approved of the sale, lease or exchange.

(7) The directors of a company, if authorised by the shareholders approving a proposed sale, lease or exchange, may, subject to the rights of third parties, abandon the sale, lease or exchange without any further approval of the shareholders.

(2) No trust deed may cover more than one class of debentures, whether or not the trust deed is required by this section to be executed.

(3) If a trust deed is required by this section to be executed in respect of any debentures issued by a public company but a trust deed has not been executed, the court may, on the application of a holder of any debenture issued by the company—

- (b) the company is wound-up, that is to say, if, in those circumstances, the security interest or the proceeds of it, or any assets available to satisfy the debentures, is or are not to be applied in satisfying the debentures strictly in proportion to the amount of principal, premiums and arrears of interest to which the holders of them are respectively entitled.

Cover of trust deed

166. A debenture is covered by a trust deed if the debenture holder is entitled to participate in any money payable by the company under the trust deed, or is entitled by the trust deed to the benefit of any security interest, whether alone or together with other persons.

Exception

167. Sections 164 to 166 do not apply to debentures issued before the commencement date, or to debentures forming part of a class of debentures some of which were issued before that date.

 - (c) the nature of any assets over which a security interest is created by the trust deed in favour of the trustee for the benefit of the debenture holders equally, and, except where such an interest is a floating charge or a general floating charge, the identity of the assets subject to it;
 - (d) the nature of any assets over which a security interest has been, or will be, created in favour of any person other than the trustee for the benefit of the debenture holders equally, and, except where such an interest is a floating charge or a general floating charge, the identity of the assets subject to it;
 - (e) whether the company has created or will have to create any security interest for the benefit of some, but not all, of the holders of debentures issued under the trust deed;
 - (f) any prohibition or restriction on the power of the company to issue debentures or to create any security interest on any of its assets ranking in priority to, or equally with, the debentures issued under the trust deed;
 - (g) whether the company will have power to acquire debentures issued under the trust deed before the date for their redemption and to re-issue the debentures;
 - (h) the dates on which interest on the debentures issued under the trust deed will be paid, and the manner in which payment will be made;
 - (i) the dates on which the principal of the debentures issued under the trust deed will be repaid, and, unless the whole principal is to be repaid to all the debenture holders at the same time, the manner in which redemption will be effected, whether by the payment of equal instalments of principal in respect of each debenture or by the selection of debentures for redemption by the company, or by drawing, ballot or otherwise;
 - (j) in the case of convertible debentures, the dates and terms on which the debentures can be converted into shares and the amounts that will be credited as paid upon those shares, and the dates and terms on which the debenture holders can exercise any right to subscribe for shares in right of the debentures held by them;
 - (k) the circumstances in which the debenture holders will be entitled to realise any security interest vested in the trustee or any other person for their benefit, other than the circumstances in which they are entitled to do so by this Ordinance;

- (n) the amount or rate of remuneration to be paid to the trustee and the period for which it will be paid, and whether it will be paid in priority to the principal, interest and costs in respect of debentures issued under the trust deed.

(2) If debentures are issued without a covering trust deed being executed, the statements required by section (1) must be included in each debenture or in a note forming part of the same document, or endorsed in it; and in applying that subsection, references in it to the trust deed are to be construed as references to all or any of the debentures of the same class.

(3) Subsection (2) does not apply if—

- (a) the debenture is the only debenture of the class to which it belongs that has been or that can be issued; and
- (b) the rights of the debenture holder cannot be altered or abrogated without the consent of the holder.

Notes

This form is to be delivered to the Registrar of Companies when a registered company gives another 'person' (including another company or bank) rights over company property, usually in return for a loan. It may also be used when the company acquires property which is already subject to a charge.

The form should be completed and delivered as soon as possible either by the company or the person in whose favour the charge has been granted (the 'chargee').

The property may be anything that belongs to the company, including land, buildings, plant and machinery, or money due to the company now or in the future.

A fixed charge is over specific identified assets, while a floating charge may give rights over changing assets, such as the balance of the company's bank account or stock acquired for sale in the normal course of business.

If the company goes into liquidation, the chargee will normally be entitled to claim the property under the terms of the charge and will thus have priority over other (unsecured) creditors.

If a charge is not registered, and the company goes into liquidation, the liquidator will not recognise the charge. Any amount owed on it will be treated as an unsecured debt.

If a company gives more than one charge over its property, the priority will be determined by the date of delivery of the particulars, or registration. If it has been agreed that a charge should be given at some future date, it may be registered before this date to secure a priority.

If the company is mortgaging land, it will also need to comply with the requirements of the Registered Land Ordinance, 1980.

When a charge ceases to have effect, this may be notified on Form 13. If this is not done, it will continue to show as a current charge on the company's public file.

This does not include changes in property subject to a floating charge. Such changes do not need to be notified

The form should contain sufficient information to enable the Registrar or any member of the public viewing the information to relate the discharge to information about the creation of the charge previously given to the Registrar on Form 10.

Public information about the company includes an indication of whether any of its property is subject to a charge. If there are no outstanding charges, the records will be noted to this effect.
