

MAJOR INCIDENT

St Helena Government

Working Together - Saving Lives

The St Helena Police Directorate emergency response services, such as Police, Fire & Rescue, and Sea Rescue, will not only work amongst themselves during a major incident, but also with other Government agencies such as Road Works, Transport Division, ANRD, Health, Press Office, and many more to ensure that there is a effective and efficient rescue, recovery, and investigation.

Police will be the lead agency with all other agencies reporting back to them.

By working together we protect and serve the community and provide a valued service and this also enhances the Trust and Confidence within all SHG services.

All involved parties have been prepared should any major incident be declared by having practical exercises and table top exercises.
