

POLICE CONSTABLE – ASCENSION ISLAND

Job Title: Police Constable

Salary: £11, 365.00 + Allowances and Benefits

Status: Unaccompanied

Start Date: December 2021/January 2022

Vacancy: A unique and challenging opportunity will shortly arise for an enthusiastic and dynamic individual, to join the St Helena Police Service, on Ascension Island with the opportunity to also be seconded to St Helena Island.

We are seeking to recruit a Police Constable to serve on a contractual basis for a period of one year in the first instance.

The successful candidate will be posted to Ascension and for operational and training needs, eligible to also be posted to our home police service on St Helena.

Candidates must be:

- Fluent in English

Have:

- Minimum 5 years' experience as a Police Constable.
- Interviewing witnesses and/or suspects and a working knowledge of PACE.
- Driving license for a motor car

It will be an advantage for the candidate to have worked in small and remote communities, able to adapt to a different culture and have a community orientated policing style with the ability to demonstrate emotional intelligence.

Appointment will be subject to:

- Enhanced Criminal Records Check
- Satisfactory Employment References
- Satisfactory Medical Clearance

If you are interested and would like to work for a small Police Service and be part of a close knit welcoming community, this is an ideal opportunity, contact Police Inspector jonathan.thomas@ascension.gov.ac for further information about the post

Closing date for applications is 4pm Monday 8th November 2021. Interviews for candidates off island will be held by Skype shortly after this date.
